VTT - Using Ecological Inventories to Support Skill Building During Transitions

An ecological approach to assessment helps to uncover the skills critical for success in an individual's desired work, play and living environments. This training will discuss the process and provide examples and tools for goal development and practice during times of transition.

New Date and Time:
May 29, 1:00 PM – 2:00 PM

Virtual Office Hours (VOH) are GoTo Webinars that allow interactive dialogue. They occur one time and are not recorded.

Virtual Targeted Trainings (VTT) are GoTo Webinars that include PowerPoint presentations. They have minimal opportunity for dialogue but are recorded. This session will be available at the following link 48 hours after the session concludes: Using Ecological Inventories to Support Skill Building During Transitions Recording

Pre-registration for each session is required. Use the hyperlinked title above to register. Once registered, you will receive an email with instructions describing how to participate including a new link to join the meeting. You can join the audio portion of the webinar by telephone or computer.
