

POSITIVE APPROACHES JOURNAL

Volume 9 ► Issue 2 ► August 2020

The Office of Developmental Programs (ODP) and the Office of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services (OMHSAS) is pleased to announce that the latest edition of the Positive Approaches Journal is now available!

The theme of this issue is

Are we listening? The Challenges and Opportunities in Communication

Hopefully this issue will inform and educate readers on the many forms of communication and how best to use these methods to ensure individuals are given every opportunity to reach out, connect and find their place in the community living an everyday life. It is also meant to ensure we listen closely to determine how best to help make those connections.

Data Discoveries, a feature of Positive Approaches, spotlights useful data presented in ways that are interesting and customizable. This issue's Data Discoveries will show how data sources can be useful to understand communication issues and identify new solutions and supports for communication.

This issue of Positive Approaches Journal is in digital form, available for viewing online or for downloading at:

<https://www.myodp.org/mod/book/view.php?id=28374>

To print a copy of the PDF, online journal, or a specific article, you will find these options within your left navigation bar on any Positive Approaches Journal page. A new window will open with your selected document. In your browser, you may click the Print button in the top left corner of the page, or by using the Print capability within your browser

Please submit feedback regarding your experience with the Positive Approaches Journal on MyODP by clicking the image below within this e-mail, or by clicking on the feedback image on MyODP within your left navigation bar on any Positive Approaches Journal page.

The Positive Approaches Journal is published quarterly. For additional information, please contact: RA-PWODPTraining@pa.gov